四、閱讀測驗

說明：下面兩篇短文，每篇各有 5 題，為第 41~50 題，請閱讀短文後，選出最適當的答案。

Keeping a private car is usually troublesome and not an economical way. For some, the alternative to keeping is renting. However, if the driving time is short, maybe just a few hours for a mall shopping, it's also not a smart idea to rent a car, which is often charged by the day.

Now there's a better choice for those who only want to take a short ride. It's the concept of car sharing. Car sharing, which is charged by the minute or hour, means many people share the use of a car. For the customer's convenience, the fee includes taxes, insurance, fuel and even parking charges. All customers have to do is register for the service. Then, they receive a chip that allows them to use the car simply by swiping it through a card reader on the car's windshield. The idea is most appealing to singles, young families and couples, who appreciate the savings they make and the flexibility of car sharing.

In fact, car sharing gains several advantages over traditional renting: cars are available round the clock at various locations. The duration for which a car is shared is flexible: it is even possible to use the shared car for just a few minutes. Numbers of car sharers are growing by two figures every year in Europe. Many big traditional car rental companies have been paying much attention to the current trend of car sharing, and some of them begin to offer customers the same services as car sharing.

41. According to the passage, which of the following statements is true?
- (A) Having a private car can save a lot of money.
  - (B) With car sharing, we can share the use of a car for twenty minutes.
  - (C) Car sharers have to pay extra fees for car maintenance.
  - (D) Anyone who wants to be a car sharer has to prepare a private parking space.
42. What is the best title for this passage?
- (A) A New Direction in Energy Saving
  - (B) The Cost of Car Sharing
  - (C) The Disadvantages of Keeping a Private Car
  - (D) Cheap and Flexible—Car Sharing
43. Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the passage?
- (A) A car sharer has to register before using the shared car.
  - (B) Some traditional rental companies are trying to follow the practice of car sharing.
  - (C) The profit of car sharing business is growing by two figures every year in Europe.
  - (D) Car sharers can even get a car at midnight.
44. Which of the following can be inferred from the passage?
- (A) The number of car sharers in Asia is increasing remarkably.
  - (B) Compared with 2009, the increase of car sharers in 2010 in Europe is not less than ten percent.
  - (C) Young people today would rather rent cars than houses.
  - (D) An old person cannot be a car sharer.
45. What is the passage mainly about?
- (A) The concept of car sharing.
  - (B) The advantages of sharing a car with singles, young families and couples.
  - (C) The people who like car sharing.
  - (D) A car dealer's story.

Digital revolution always causes great impacts on related industries. The emergence of e-books (electronic books) has been stressing the worldwide book industry out. In the face of the rapid and alarming development of e-books, some publishing companies have responded quickly by publishing books in diverse formats, including audio, text, and digital.

While publishers and booksellers are still discussing the wake of a digital revolution, profuse new mobile reading devices hastily hit the market to catch the tide and traditional book buyers' attention. What's the overpowering allurement of e-books? First of all, they can save a lot of storage space. If you can put your favorite 1,500 books into a gadget, which is as slim as a magazine and weighs less than most paperbacks, and redesign your study into an audiovisual recreation room, isn't it very fascinating? Furthermore, among its many advantages, the text-to-speech function allows a reader to become a listener—just lean back and listen to the book comfortably.

As “news” is not necessarily printed on “paper” to make up a “newspaper”, the definition of “book” will be changed drastically before long. With e-books, what the next chapter will happen will affect our reading habits and the development of technology companies, publishers, bookstores, authors, and libraries.

46. In which subject can this passage be found?

- (A) Astrology (B) Biology
(C) Psychology (D) Technology

47. Which of the following statements is NOT true according to the passage?

- (A) If we don't have much space to store books, using an e-book instead is a good idea.
(B) The appearance of e-books makes the worldwide book industry feel so anxious.
(C) Presently only few mobile reading devices are on the market.
(D) It's possible to put the contents of 1,500 books into an e-book.

48. The word “allurement” in the second paragraph is the closest in meaning to “_____.”

- (A) fun (B) function
(C) attraction (D) profit

49. According to this passage, which of the following descriptions is true?

- (A) Digital revolution has no influence over the publishing book industry.
(B) The redefinition of “book” will take place soon.
(C) An e-book is heavier than most ordinary books.
(D) Reading an e-book is much more comfortable than reading a common paperback.

50. Based on the context, which one of the following is the most possible definition of “book” in the future?

- (A) A publication in any format printed on sheets of paper or stored in a digital device.
(B) A number of sheets of paper bound together at one side.
(C) A number of printed sheets of paper bound together in a cover.
(D) A long written or printed work of fiction or non fiction on sheets of paper fastened together within covers.
